

To W. F. Garrison.

BOSTON
ATHENEUM

Boston, Apr. 10. 1866,

46

My Dear Mr. Garrison,

Yours of yesterday rec^d. just as I was coming to town, I will write the article that Mr. Fosken asks for (D. V.) so that you will get it on Sat'y.
That, then, is the last day for the next week's paper. Was a good thing to know, as no intelligent human being ever does anything until the last moment.

The Temp comes all right Laboratory extent. Two gentlemen, old Mr. May and Mr E. D. Grover have subscribed $500. each, which will more than pay all the expenses, so that all that comes in after the work begins will be clear gain.

I was afraid some incompetent persons might make the attempt in a way to make a failure, or to provoke your Father to put a stop to it. The men also have taken hold of the matter & the grounds on which it is put, ^{must} ~~must~~ relieve his mind of any delicacy about it, & make a ^{thing} of pure gratification to him & his family.

Very truly Yours,

Edmund Quincy

now. In fact, it has come a little too recent, for I have had two Nos of several of the papers, one from N. Y. some from London. I presume the paper is printed in London by printers who know nothing of French, from the uncalculable number of misprints.

You have heard, doubtless, of the pernicious hearing of the proposed Testimonial to your Father. We waited long, but uselessly, as everything depended on its being properly managed.
Now, I think, there can be no doubt of its success to a very
